

17th May 2020 – Cranedale Coronavirus Statement

In light of the Government Advice for Schools, the Cranedale Centre is now working hard to re-arrange courses wherever possible to accommodate school groups. We recognise that for many schools, the field trip is of great educational and personal value to all other subject areas and is also be a compulsory element in Geography.

We are extending our season later into December and earlier in January to try to accommodate everyone who has been unable to visit us as they had planned. We are also focused on making the Centre 'Covid-Secure' in-line with official advice from the Government.

We do acknowledge that for many schools, re-arranging the course may not be possible however we are sorry to say, as per our terms and conditions we are unable to offer any refunds for school trip cancellations. We are advising schools to seek to claim on their travel insurance if all available dates for re-arranging the course are unsuitable.

In the interim, should the guidelines allow we will be ever ready to provide your field course during your planned dates. Our tutors will be contacting schools to liaise on the content of their courses in the usual way.

We send all school teachers, students and parents our best wishes in these challenging times. We hope to be able to welcome you to the Cranedale Centre in the near future.
